práctica y las políticas europeas
de la enseñanza

Introducción

Financiado por Erasmus+, el programa europeo para la educación, la formación, la juventud y el deporte

Supervisado por la Dirección General de Educación y Cultura (Unidad B.2: Centros y educadores; multilingüismo)

Vinculado con eTwinning: la comunidad para los centros educativos europeos

Gestionado por European Schoolnet, un consorcio internacional de 30 ministerios europeos de educación

Información personal

La plataforma School Education Gateway, disponible en 23 idiomas, constituye una ventanilla única para:

- Docentes y personal de dirección de centros educativos
- Responsables políticos
- Personas expertas del sector
- Resto de profesionales de la enseñanza

The screenshot shows the School Education Gateway website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the logo and links for 'LATEST', 'VIEWPOINTS', 'RESOURCES', 'ERASMUS- OPPORTUNITIES', and 'TEACHER ACADEMY'. Below this, there is a main content area with several featured articles and sections.

Featured Article: 'Cultural Awareness and Expression: A cross-curricular tool for classrooms'. The article includes a photo of a young girl taking a picture with a camera. The text describes it as one of the eight key competences for lifelong learning, involving appreciation of creative expression of ideas, experiences and emotions and active creation in a range of media (music, performing arts, literature and the visual arts).

Other Articles: 'Teacher Academy: a European response to teachers' professional development needs' and 'Conference of the EU Policy Networks: Sustainable Networks for Inclusive Education'.

Right Sidebar: 'Browse content by theme' with categories like Basic Skills, Citizenship, Early Childhood Education and Care, Language Learning, Tackling Early School Leaving, and Teachers and Teaching. There is also a 'POLL' section titled 'What does Europe think about school education?'.

Discover resources and opportunities: A section with four icons representing 'Teacher Academy (including Course Catalogue)', 'Mobility opportunities', 'Strategic partnerships', and 'European Toolkit for Schools'.

Latest content: 'Can heritage contribute to cultural awareness and expression?' with a photo of a museum at night.

Upcoming events: 'Quick poll on Cultural Awareness and Expression', 'INNODOCT 2016: Conference on Innovation, Documentation and Teaching Technologies', and 'Open eTwinning MOOC - Online course to know eTwinning better'.

Teachers and Teaching

There are more than 5 million teachers in Europe. The knowledge, skills and attitudes of each of them are of great importance, and the quality of their teaching has a direct effect upon learners' outcomes. At the same time, the demands made on teachers are increasing and changing, which means that they need support to continuously develop their own knowledge and skills. It is therefore essential that they receive professional development of the highest quality, starting from Initial Teacher Education, through early career support for novice teachers and followed by opportunities for Continuing Professional Development throughout their careers.

In this section you find articles and other materials on this theme. Read more on this theme on the European Commission's website. To explore other themes, use the menu at the top of the page.

Exchange of practice to support integration of newly arrived migrants in schools

News | 15.07.2016 | 0 | 0 | 0

Schooling is a fundamental part of integrating newly arrived migrant children, and schools and teachers therefore have an important role to play in supporting these children. Teachers' professional skills and intercultural competencies are a key for coping with the requirements. Online exchange of good practices can support teachers in handling the challenge.
